Coronation Visitor To U.K. Returns This Week

A member of the Nigerian House of Representatives who have been on a visit to the United Kingdom during the Coronation has returned to Nigeria by air on Friday July 3.

He is Hon. S. L. Edu, contractor and shipping [illegible] and first member for Epe [illegible].

During his stay, he attended a number of State functions including the Luncheon of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association in Westminster Hall London. Over 700 Parliamentary representatives were present and Her Majesty the Queen attended.

He also travelled all over the United Kingdom on business and made contacts at the office of Nigerian Produce Marketing Company, London.

He travelled to Holland and he was guest of Messrs Holland [illegible]. A big reception was accorded him in Oxford. The house of Mrs. Scott popularly known as "Mum" to many Nigerian students was decorated with Nigerian and British flags, on Saturday, June 20. In the drawing room a large painting of her "most favourite son" I. S. Adewale O.L. was hung. Over 40 guests including Lady Bourdillon wife of the late Sir Bernard Bourdillon former Governor of Nigeria and visitors Mr. I. S. Adewale was present too and the function lasted several hours.

Hon. S. L. EDU

He returned from U.K. yesterday

New York Eye Bank Collects Over 3000 Eyes

NEW YORK—The Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration, now in its eight years has received 3,100 eyes from persons who donated them before death, and has sent them to doctors in NEW York and throughout the nation for use in treating people with failing sight. In addition the Bank offers training courses in the technique of corneal transplanting, sponsors the corneal clinic of a Manhattan hospital, and promotes research in various field of ophthalmology.

Police Constable Freed

There was jubilation and merry-making both at Oggo and Ijebu Road Quarters of Isonedu when news was received of the acquittal at the Magistrate Court Shagamu of Olowofela Mase on a charge of bribing one Police Constable George Ecebor with 2/- in April this year. The presiding Magistrate was Mr. Ebose.

The accused who is a member of the Mase family of Shagamu was defended by O Adeguewa.

Nigerian Helps To Keep Jets Flying

Behind the pilots and navigators who fly the latest jet aircraft of the Royal Air Force such as the "Canberra", twin-jet bomber are the ground crews who maintain them. One of these men who belongs to a jet bomber squad on is Leading Aircraftman Olu'egun Olutayo from the Southern region of Nigeria, He is at present serving on a five year regular engagement with the Royal Air Force at a Bomber Command Station in Lincolnshire.

Leading Aircraftman Olutayo helps to keep the "Canberra" twin-jet bombers of his squadron flying. They form part of the striking power of the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation air forces. Leading Aircraftman Olutayo is training as an engines fitter and deals with the powerful "Avon" engines which power the "Canbera". Under the supervision of a Flight Sergeant he makes the necessary adjustments to them so they are ready to power a "Canbera" bomber on a training or operational flight. At Present in Britain there are many trainees from the British Colonial territories who are training with the armed forces and police as well as those who are on courses of study in medicine, engineering and other trades.

Cocoa Marketing Board To Meet

The next meeting of the Nigeria Cocoa Marketing Board will take place on the 30th July under the Chairmanship of Mr. A. H. Young C.B.E. who became Chairman of the four Nigeria Produce Marketing Boards in April following the resignation of the previous Chairman, Sir Sydney Phillipson, C.M.G.

At this meeting the Board will review generally the results of the past cocoa season and will also consider, as its main item of business, the question of the producer price for the 1953/54 cocoa season. The Board will also deal with marketing arrangements for the new season, including the closing and opening dates of the seasons and the appointment of the Board's licensed buying agents for the coming cocoa season.

Each year at this Meeting, the Board reviews in detail the performance of its licensed buying agents during the past season, and in conducting this review at its forthcoming meeting the Board will take into account the results of the enquiries which it has made in the cocoa trade during the season now drawing to a close.

These investigations, which are still in progress in the case of a number of licensed buying agents, have already resulted in the suspension of Messrs. A. G. Leventis & Company Ltd., as a licensed buying agent of the Board pending further consideration at the forthcoming meeting. The Board's agenda will also include consideration of the measures which the Board proposes to introduce to prevent any recurrence of these irregularities during the coming cocoa season.
