Austria

Austria is small but not poor country. She is rich in natural resources-iron, timber, hydro power, oil, magnesite. Today, thanks to the hard work and initiative of her population and the prudent use of foreign aid, Austria's economy is on a sound and firm foundation, despite the war and ten heavy years of occupation.

Austria has an efficient industry and busy trades and crafts: her commerce and communications are equal to modern demands, her agriculture provides 75 o/o of her food requirements.

Hong Kong

"The story of Hong Kong since 1954 is essertia-lly the story of our growth in population, in industrial power . . . and the extent of the additional areas of land w.n by reclamation from the sea", said Sir Robert Black, the Governor of the Colony.

The Colony, founded in 1842, supplies world markets with wide range and high quality of light industrial products like toys, kitchen wares, torchlights and batteries, suit cases, Cameras, Vacumn flasks, umbrellas, jewellery and well patterned cloths.

Hon Kong Day at the Fair is Tuesday, November 6th.

Trade Fair News

Holland

Nigeria's economic relations with Holland are very fair. As a matter of fact, the total figures of this Countr'ys trade with Holland have fluctuated between £20,000,000 and £30,000,000. These totals as revealed by Dutch trade records.

About half of our present export to Holland consist of oil seeds like palm kernels, palm oil and groundnuts. The country is well known with the processing of oil-seeds and vegetable oils into margarine, soap and other edible oils.

The Dutch aircraft industry is now working hard on an order for five planes seating 50 passengers each for the Nigerian Airways. The country motor industry exports lorries and buses to Nigeria.

Japan

About forty exhibitors, representing Japanese manufacturers, are displaying all kinds of goods ranging from textiles to motor vehicles. The principal exihibits are fishing net machines, fishing nets, canned foods, tape recorders, transitor and television sets, electrical appliances, bicycles, motor cycles, plastic products, agricultural implements and China wares

The JAPAN EXTERNAL Trade Organisation called JETRO, a government sponsored trade promotion agency is, on behalf of many Japanese manufacturers, participating in the FAIR.
