EADWIN

Near the beginning of the year Eadwin, King of Northumbria, sent to Edgar at his court, requesting him to send him a portion of the royal treasure. Edgar sent him a sum of money, and Eadwin, who was then in the neighbourhood of York, sent back to Edgar a sum of gold and silver which he had taken from the church of St. Peter at York.

When all these things happened whereupon it is to the very letter not well to chronicle, so nowhere have we any living man, or man of any note.
