[ANDREW'S
LIVER SALT]

An advertisement for Andrews Liver Salt. It features a woman's face with a distressed expression, looking towards the right. Below her face is a glass containing a dark liquid, likely liver salt. The brand name 'ANDREWS' is prominently displayed in large, bold, serif capital letters. Below it, 'LIVER SALT' is written in a smaller, bold, sans-serif font. At the very bottom, there is fine print that is partially obscured by the glass.

A black and white photograph capturing a large, diverse group of people in a formal, posed arrangement. The individuals, numbering in the dozens, are dressed in a variety of styles, from traditional robes and headgear to more modern Western-style clothing. They are organized into several horizontal rows, creating a dense, collective image. The background is dark and indistinct, making the subjects stand out.
