Students Hold Parties

Republic Day Celebrations In Britain

LONDON—Nigeria's Republic Day celebrations in London were ushered in by a ball given by the Nigerian High Commissioner, Ahsaji Abdul Maliki, for members of the High Commission staff and Nigerian students in London.

The High Commission also held a reception last night for British friends of Nigeria at one of London's leading hotels and the Nigerian student association has planned an all-night dance for this weekend.

Students throughout Britain held parties both small and large but perhaps the most impressive was in Cardiff, where the occasion was marked by a flag hoisting ceremony outside the Town Hall by the Deputy Lord Mayor of Cardiff, Alderman F. G. Davis.

"Occasions like this," said Mr. Isa Sule, Secretary of the Cardiff Branch of the Union of Nigerian Students, who comes from Auchi, "will help strengthen the already close links we have with Britain."

"Nigerian students can always look to the people of Wales for friendship and warm hospitality", he added.

Yesterday evening the students held a celebration party at the British Council Centre in Cardiff at which Irene, Countess of Plymouth, was chairman. An address of welcome in Hausa was given by Mr. B. A. D. Mallam Gera, who recently arrived in Britain to study sociology and who comes from Zaria.

British Lawyer For North

LONDON—A distinguished British lawyer, who has been Attorney General in Nyasaland, has been appointed a Legal Draftsman to the Government of Northern Nigeria.

He is Mr. Ralph King, who will be sailing to Lagos this month to serve in Nigeria under the Britain-Niger a technical assistance arrangement.

As Attorney General in Nyasaland one of his responsibilities was to supervise the drafting of all Government legislation.

Mr King served in Somaliland as Legal Officer and Crown Counsel from 1947-1953 when he transferred to Nyasaland. There he was promoted to Attorney General in 1957. He returned to Britain in 1961.

Mr King will bring his wife and younger son to Nigeria. His eldest son and his daughter will remain at school in Britain.

Nigerian Journalists In Britain For Special Course

LONDON — Two Nigerian journalists have arrived in Britain to join the first course organised by the Thompson Foundation to help train newspapermen from developing countries.

The three-months course starting this week in Cardiff, will include practical experience on two of the City's newspapers, The Thompson Foundation was set up recently by Mr. Roy Thomson with a £5 million Trust to train journalists and broadcasters from developing countries.

They will meet the chairman of the Glamorgan Council, the Mayor of Swansea and the Lord Mayor of Cardiff. There will also be dinner and reception in their honour as Cardiff Castle.

The Nigerians, Mr Isaac People, a free-lance journalist and feature writer and Mr Folorin Moran-

Scottish-Born British Red Cross Commandant

Miss Marie Dunn, formerly Commandant of a City of Glasgow British Red Cross Society detachment, has been appointed Districts Field Officer to Uganda.

Britain Buy More Produce From Nigeria

LONDON—Britain's purchases from Nigeria are running at a level £11.2 million above those of last year, according to figures just published in London by the Board of Trade.

In the first eight months of 1962, Britain bought produce from Nigeria worth £52,250,941. The comparable figure has risen this year to £53,590,143.

The two biggest rises are in petroleum and oilseeds but over the first eight months of the year other commodities showing increases are Hides and skins, timber, cotton, and produce under the heading "coffee, cocoa, tea and spices."
