In Memoriam

-X-X-X-

In loving memory of our dearly beloved father, the late Abudu Lasisi Dabiri, the Baba Adinni of Lagos, (1941–53) who slept in Allah on Friday 3rd July, 1953. Ten years have rolled by since you answered the call of Allah; but to die and live in the hearts of those behind is not to die.

We leave thy soul to rest in peace with Allah.

Remembered by Muhammed Mustafa Dabiri.

On behalf of the family.

English Girl Will Study Hausa In Kano Market

LONDON—The first English girl ever to study for a degree in Hausa at London University is to spend her long vacation, starting on July 9, talking to stall holders ni Kano Market.

Twenty-years-old Miss Hannah Middleton, daughter of a former Mayor of Greenwich, London, is one of a trio of second year students in the African studies Department of the London School of Oriental and African Studies — all specialising in Hausa—who will be making the trip. Accompanying her will be a fellow English student, David Dalzel and an Indian student Mr Suneet Chopra.

'While we have the advantage at the London School of Oriental and African Studies of being able to talk to Nigerian Students in Hausa, all three of us feel we would benefit enormously by spending a vacation in Northern Nigeria in a place where we shall be speaking the language more or less al the time,' Miss Middleton explained to our correspondent yesterday.

Lecturers at the London School have drawn up a course of study for the students while in Kano. Their project is to study the loca products sold in Kano Market and compile a detailed list of Hausa names for the products together with notes on their origin, method of manufacture, use, price, and method of distribution.

After getting her degree, Miss Middleton would like to teach in Nigeria.

Nigeria First For New British Jets

LONDON—Nigeria and Ghana will be the first countries to benefit when BOAC introduce their giant four-engined V.C.-10 jet liners early next year.

BOAC are to have twelve of the new aircraft which are designed primarily for operation to and from hot and or high airfields and although the first VC-10's will be officially delivered in February. Vickes-Armstrongs (Aircraft)- a member of the British Aircraft Corporation is making several available to BOAC before that date for route proving, development flying and training.

The first will go into passenger service on the Airline's Nigeria and Ghana routes early in April, it has been disclosed by Sir Basil Smallpeice, Managing Director of BOAC.

Initially, the VC 10's will fly seven times a week to West Africa rising to ten weekly flights in May.

In June June next year, the new jets will be introduced on the London-Canada routes and in July on East, Central and South African services. In August they will start twice-weekly services to South America.

Nigeria Journalists With Lord Mayor Of Nottingham

NOTTINGHAM — Four Lagos journalists, visiting Britain as guests of tho Commonwealth Relations Office, were recçivad by the Lord Mayor of Nottingham on Monday. They spent the afternoon as his guests during a meeting of the City Council.

The journalists, who are spending a week visiting the North Midlands, are Mrs. Ada Agwu, ("Jane") of the West African Pilot, Mr. Ladipọ Fashade, production editor, Daily Express; Mr. Simeon Oluyẹmi, assistant features editor, the Morning Post, and Mr. Geoge Okoro, a sub-editor of the Daily Times.

The vistors arrived in Nottingham last Fri— ...r visiting a large ...rks in Scunthorpe, ...oinshire. They have since spent much of their time visiting schools-"Jane" to a girl's high school and Mr. Okoro and Mr. Oluyemi to a comprehensive boys' school equipped to insruct all standards of pupil from potential university entrants to mentally retarded boys.

'We were particularly impressed by the size and scope of the school's engineering department and its three gymnasia," Mr. Oluyemi told our correspondent yesterday.

A Nottingham journalist took Mr. Fashade on a visit to the local magistrate court, where he spent a morning studing court procedure.

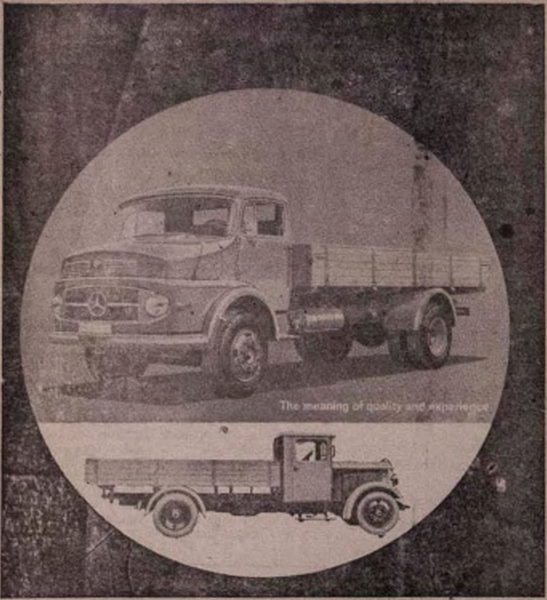
Northern Nigerian Women With New Ideas

LONDON — After touring Britain for six weeks ten Northern Nigerian women said they would be returning home on Friday "bubbling over with ideas" which they hoped they would be able to put to use.

The women have visited several British cities including London, Southampton, Manchester, Blackpool and Glasgow, studying hospitals, clinics, schools and welfare organisations during a tour organised by the British Council, at the request of the Northern Nigerian Government.

"We have seen so many things ... have intrested us sin... ame over," Malama Falmata Mani, the Matron of the secondary School at Maiduguri, told a correspondent. "In fact, we have got so many ideas it will take a bit of time to sort them out.

Another member of the party, Malama Amina Ibrahim a school teacher with the Sokoto N.A., hopes to return to study in Britain: "I should very much like to take a further teching course in this country, I feel there are so many things I could learn," she explained.



Facts speak for themselves. This venerable veteran, a truck type Lo 2000, vintage 1934, has covered 1,367,000 miles. No doubt it would have gone on if Daimler-Benz AG had not bought it back at the ripe old age of twenty-five. Of course not every Mercedes-Benz can have such a long working life. However, all Mercedes-Benz vehicles are built to last, just as much now as they were then, to give many years and many miles of trouble-free, economical service.
