TO HENRY CARR, ESQ. M.A., B.C.L., I.S.O.

Chancellor of the Diocese of Lagos, and Resident of the Colony.

No. 15. 6, Tinubu Square, Lagos.

Sir,—That your opening Speech at a Public Meeting held on behalf of the Rev. Dr. Peters in the Wesleyan Tinubu School, over which you presided in the evening of Monday last, is such as to produce much food for thought because of its incisive logic, wit and wisdom, goes without saying. The subject of Practical Education on which you very rightly laid much emphasis, and with respect to which you cited two fitting instances, one of a carpenter with a door which does not shut, and the other of a school-boy with a bad grammar in his composition, is one for which in my humble opinion, we the present generation shall be thankful if only attempt is made by you, Sir, in giving us the benefit of your ripe experiences and golden advice on this line, in writing.

I have before me as I write, your thought-provoking Speech, delivered 22 years ago, at the Inaugural Meeting of the now defunct Lagos Institute of which you had the honour of being its Vice-President with his excellency Sir William Macgregor as President. I cannot resist quoting hereunder your remarks on Literature at the time, as follows:—

"Literature will acquaint us with the best that has been thought and done in the world. The rigorous methods of scientific inquiry will emancipate us from the tyranny of provincial prejudices, and safely lead us beyond the limits of proverbial philosophy."

I long for the time, when intercourse, such as this will be rendered more possible in future between us the present generation, and your good self, for advice and wise direction which unfortunately, presently, is just like the Angels' visit-few and far between.

Allow me, therefore, to greet you on the success of the evening, in our mother tongue.—Eku ase ye oyo!—EKO AKETE

My Dear Doc.—Thanks to the indomitable energy of our respected townsman Mr. P. J. C. Thomas, for introducing you to our small but all-important Community in Nigeria, at a Public Meeting held in Wesleyan Tinubu School in the evening of Monday last, with that end in view.

Your Address, soul-stirring and forceful, in its get-up left nothing to be desired, particularly that very interesting part treating on the statistics relative to the activities of our brothers and sisters, whom Providence in His inscrutable way has made to domicile in The Land of Stars and Stripes.

Your educational mission to our people in Liberia as embodied in the Address has our good wishes, no less than our sympathy.

That long lease of life and health be vouchsafed you and yours from on high, is the earnest prayer of your fellow-countryman.—EKO AKETE.

His Excellency the Governor has directed that His Honour the Lieutenant Governor should instruct the Resident of the Colony to inform Mr. Shyngle and those associated with him that the text of the Petition praying for reconsideration of the case of Eshugbayi, who has ceased to be recognized by the Government as the Head of the House of D.emo, and asking His Excellency to allow it to be presented to him by Deputation, has been laid before him and to communicate to them verbatim the following Minute which has been made by His Excellency.

MINUTE BY THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. Shyngle and those associated with him should be informed that the so called "Monster" Petition has been laid before me, but that I can only regard it as an utterly worthless document.

It contains no facts that are new and many statements which are inaccurate or untrue.

I am not in the least impressed by the statement that the Petition has been signed by 17,000 people.

In an Address which was read to me on my return to Lagos from England on December 15th 1921—more than a year ago—I was told that I was the "earnest and unanimous desire of the whole community" to approach me by Petition on the subject of Eshugbayi, who had ceased to be recognised by the Government as the Head of the House of Docemo. Now after nearly twelve months of labour the document before me has been brought forth. As the offspring of earnestness and unanimity I can only regard it as an abortive failure.

Even if all the signatures obtained to this document had been spontaneous and had been confined to people living in Lagos 17,000 signatures represent a poor show of "unanimity" on the part of a community numbering more than 99,000 souls.

Far from the signatures being spontaneously offered, however, I have reason to believe that they have in many cases been obtained by the most shameless touting.

Far from signatories being exclusively persons resident in Lagos, the touting operations above referred to have been apparently extended, where this was found possible, to illiterate Yoruba communities in the Protectorate who have no historical or traditional connection with the House of Docemo.

The value of the Petition is further discounted by the fact that many leading men in Lagos, who in the past have been keen critics of the Government, have refused to sign it or to be in any way associated with it.

In conveying my reply to the Address mentioned above the Chief Secretary to Government wrote by my direction as follows:—

"In paragraph 5 of the Address, mention is made of the case of Eshughayi, formerly Eleko, who until recently was recognised as the Head of the House of Docemo. The details of this case, I am to say, are well known to you. Within a few weeks of His Excellency's arrival in Nigeria and during his absence on tour, Eshughayi committed certain irregularities for which he was forthwith suspended by Mr., now Sir, Alexander Boyle, who was acting as the Governor's Deputy. On His Excellency's return to Lagos, the matter was fully enquired into by him, and though the conduct of Eshughayi was not defended even by his friends, His Excellency decided to reinstate him in his office, but at the same time administered to him personally in the presence of the White Cap Chiefs a solemn warning that a like leniency would not be shown to him in the event of further misconduct upon his part.

"Within a few months of the date upon which that admonition was addressed to him, a gentleman whom, unknown to the Government, the ex-Eleko had entrusted with his staff, put forward publicly in England (whether on his own responsibility or as the result of previous consultation with Eshughayi) certain preposterous claims on his behalf; one of which was his alleged title to be recognised as the Paramount Chief of the whole of Nigeria. The ridiculous character of these pretensions does not need, His Excellency considers, to be explained to you; but I am to remark that, even if the claim to be recognised as Paramount Chief had extended only to the Yoruba Country instead of to the whole of Nigeria, the Government would have been compelled to repudiate it as publicly as it had been advanced as this Administration has under its protection such Chiefs as the Oni of Ife, the Alafin of Oyo, the Alake of Abeokuta and the Emir of Ilorin. Eshughayi was accordingly invited to make this repudiation of the claims that, whether with or without his authority, had been publicly put forward by the person to whom he had entrusted his Staff. The fact that these claims had not only been made but published is not denied. The fact that they had been so advanced and published was brought officially to the notice of Eshughayi; yet he declined to withdraw or repudiate them. He was warned, not once but several times, both officially and privately, what the consequences of his refusal would be. It is possible that he was persuaded by mischievous advisers that he could defy the Government with safety; but I am to add that, however that may be, he was repeatedly and solemnly warned what the consequences of his recalcitrance would be. By those consequences he must now abide. The action of His Excellency in this matter has the complete approval of the Secretary of State for the colonies. A Petition addressed on Eshughayi's behalf to His Majesty the King has been refused after full consideration."

These words are sufficiently plain and clear; and I feel both surprise and regret that any persons of presumed intelligence and respectability should have wasted time and money during a period of twelve months in laboriously collecting signatures to a Petition which they must have known was certain to be barren of result and which was therefore not worth a moment's effort or a single penny-piece.

For the reasons which I have here set forth, I of course decline to receive any Deputation having for its object any request for reconsideration of Eshughayi's case.

Mr. Shyngle and those associated with him should be informed accordingly, and should further be told that any communication designed to effect that object which may hereafter be addressed to Government will receive neither acknowledgment nor reply.

HUGH CLIFFORD.
