OLUSAKIN'S COLUMN.

Hardings—Wills—Jones, etc.

A some funny wills made in this country may be mentioned the wills of the late Tom Jones and W. R. Harding. Funny in that they contain little or no provision for those who, under ordinary circumstances, were entitled to a lion share of the asset involved, but in respect of which the Testators who were the best judges thought otherwise. Worse things do happen in England as the following extract culled from an English newspaper indicates:—

"One shilling to buy a Rope" HUSBAND'S BEQUEST TO HIS WIFE.

The Will has just been proved of a testator living at St. Leonard's, and formerly of Bristol, who died on November 15th last. This will was written throughout in his own hand and dated from Bristol on March 4th, 1917. In it he states "I give to my wife the sum of one shilling to enable her to buy a rope." He leaves a freehold house at Norwich to a St. Leonard's nurse, £10 each to two ladies living at Clifton Bristol at the residue of his property to his step sister, also living at Bristol. The value of the property is stated to be £437.

A similar Will was proved about 14 years ago, in which a man, living at Salton Coldfield, near Birmingham left to his son 3jd with which to purchase "a hempen cord or halter for the use of his (son's) dear wife, which I trust she may make use of without delay." Wills of this kind are most often directed against matrimonial partners. Possibly the height of meanness was attained in this respect by a man who left to his wife the sum of one farthing, with the direction that the coin should be sent to her by post in a unstamped envelope. (This involved a charge to her of 8d., to delivery, being the charge for sending coin in an unregistered envelope and a further two pence for unpaid postage.) He justified his action by saying that she had spent much of her time in calling him "an old pig" and other names.

A member of the staff of one of our southern Railways, who was well known to the travelling public, stated in his will—My estate would have been considerably larger if it had not been for my unfortunate marriage with the dearest known legal daylight robber. My associations with the perambulating human vinegar cruet I consider to have cost me considerably over £400."

Mr. Oke Adeshigbin.

Mr. Oke Adeshigbin who has been touring Oshogbo, Heshia, and Ile ife on a trip, returned to Lagos on Thursday last the 29th ultimo. We say e ru sbo.

Engagement.

The engagement of Miss Sally Asabi Byass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byass of 10, Bishop Street, Lagos, with Mr. James Dixon is announced to take place on Tuesday next, the 10th April, 1928.

Birth.

Archdeacon in Asylum.

ECHO OF CHURCH SENSATION SEVEN YEARS AGO.

Central figure in a sensation of 1921, ex-Archdeacon John Wakeford, formerly Canon and Precentor of Lincoln Cathedral, Archdeacon of Slow, and Vicar of Kirkstead, has been removed from the hospital of Bromley Union to Barning Heath Asylum, near Maidstone. He had been at Bromley Union Hospital for a week, having been transferred there from his home at Ilggin Hill, where Mrs. Wakeford now carry on business as a breeder of cats and dogs. On inquiry at Barning Heath Asylum, it was stated that the Archdeacon's condition was "restless and agitated," but it was hoped he would soon settle down in his new surroundings. Mr. Wakeford was first tried before a Consistory Court at Lincoln, in February, 1921, when he was accused of immorality. It was alleged that he had stayed with a young woman at the Bull Hotel, Peterborough, on 19th occasions in March and April, 1926. This accusation was denied by Mr. Wakeford, and on being found guilty, he appealed to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. The decision again went against him, and he was deprived of all office in the Church. Incidentally, the identity of the young woman with whom, it was alleged, the Archdeacon associated, has never been established.

The ex-Archdeacon was recognised as one of the most eloquent and outspoken preachers in the Church. After holding various curacies in Devon, he was appointed to a Crown living in Liverpool, in 1893, by Mr. Gladstone. His progress was rapid, and apart from his success in the pulpit he was the author of some striking theological writings. Throughout his trial there was great conflict of evidence and the Archdeacon contended it was all part of a conspiracy to brand him out of the Church.—The News of the world, 1926.
